Estée Lauder

Dear Recruiter,

I am delighted to apply for a role at Estée Lauder.

At McKinsey & Company, I have led teams to translate complex analysis into actionable insights to drive meaningful change. My specialty is guiding clients towards success by building deep relationships and simplifying complex analysis into concrete and actionable steps. Most recently, I have worked with a range of luxury retail clients, including many in the beauty and cosmetics space. The success of my clients is my success – and I’m excited to bring this mindset to Estée Lauder.

Prior to receiving my MBA from Columbia Business School, I was a management consultant at Accenture and then consulting manager at EY, where I led teams to deliver strategic solutions for a range of clients. I’ve supported business process transformations, enterprise-wide systems implementations, and operational control design projects as a lead in the human capital domain.

I’m excited to bring my skills to Estée Lauder where my passions and aspirations can be realized. I look forward to continuing our conversation. Meanwhile, more information about me is available at www.jordanlockwood.com.

Thank you for your consideration – and for all that you do to make the recruiting process come to life.

Sincerely,
